The Kangaroos

The Music Men

Empire Records and The Music Men have recently put together a CD for the Kangaroos Football Club which they have used as a major part of their venture into Sydney. The CD features "Aussie Roos", and two novelty songs "Hop On The Kangaroos" and a special "Kangaroos" version of the classic "I Am The Music Man". It also includes a 'revamped' version of the Kangaroos club song replacing the reference to "North Melbourne" with "The Kangaroos", however, much care was taken to preserve the feel and timeless quality of the original version.

The song "Aussie Roos" (sung to the tune of the Gary Glitter classic 'Rock and Roll!') has been used extensively by the Kangaroos in their Sydney promotion and has really stuck in people's minds - leading to one woman singing the entire chorus to Sam Newman during his 'Street Talk' segment on the 'The Footy Show'.

The changing face of football as a national competition into the new millenium will see all clubs striving to update their image to reach young new supporters. If they are all done as professionally and as tastefully as this brilliant release, they are sure to please both new and traditional supporters alike.
